Story Hour "Cardboard Day"

The three and four-year old Story Hour classes have been enjoying many fun themes each Wednesday morning. "Cardboard Box Day" was the theme of a recent Story Hour class. Story Hour Director Ashley Nelson created a castle for the children out of cardboard. She read Not a Box by Antoinette Portis and Christina Katerina and the Box by Patricia Lee Gauch. The children decorated the walls of the castle with beautiful hand drawn pictures. They made binoculars from cardboard tubes, and while looking through them, found a fire breathing dragon in the library! They used their imaginations and several props made from cardboard to put out his flames. The children also enjoyed a snack with their new dragon friend!

United States® Census 2020

The 2020 Census counts every person living in the 50 states, District of Columbia, and five U.S. territories. Participating in the census is required by law.

A complete and accurate count is critical for you and your community, because the results of the 2020 Census will affect community funding, congressional representation, and more. The library staff will be happy to help you get started.
